

SVG General Information

Sydney Vaulting Group Incorporated is an Equestrian Australia affiliated and insured club. SVG offers people of all abilities the opportunity to train and compete in the sport of Equestrian Vaulting. We are based at the home of Lyn Lynch, Cobb & Co Equestrian Pty Ltd, 88 Scheyville Rd Oakville 2765. lynlynch@bigpond.net.au

Attached are information and applications for membership. All fees are payable at the start of the term to ensure that horse expenses are covered. New members can pay weekly for the first term, but after that we request the fees be paid by the term.

Vaulters are expected to assist with the preparation of the horses before and after training, and may be required to assist with care of horses and/or equipment as necessary. Vaulters must bring their own water bottle to every session.

Gates must always be kept closed. People not involved in the training session are requested to stay in the designated area of the arena and not move around the horses during the training session. A separate risk management document is available in the club room, and we ask that everyone takes time to read it.

Training Session Times:

Saturday Mornings: 8.30am to 11.30am. Further practices may be scheduled during school holidays or when necessary, if training for a specific competition, please confirm these with the coaches. Fees are based on an eight week block, but sessions run throughout the school term, so allowance is made for vaulters who cannot attend every session or if rain affected. For those who are able to attend every session no extra fees are charged. Day camps may be offered during school holidays.

Uniform:

For training sessions – bike pants/leggings, T-shirts and a soft soled gymnastic type shoe. No jewelry allowed. No chewing gum.

For competitions – Uniform includes a unitard, tracksuit and gymnastic shoe.

Some second hand unitards are available for use for a small fee.

Volunteers:

Equestrian NSW encourages clubs to run volunteer programs, and keeps a database of volunteers. Benefits of volunteering include merchandise from Equestrian NSW. If you are able to volunteer in any capacity, SVG Inc, will endeavour to assist with training, although any course materials are the responsibility of the candidate to purchase. On a weekly basis we require volunteers for lungeing, coaching, fitness training and horse management. At competitions we require volunteers for announcing, music operation, canteen, judging, penciling and senior first aid officers.

Membership Information

Annual Membership:

Membership to SVG Inc., entitles vaulters to train during the year, compete in EA Participation Events run by SVG and receive our newsletters. Membership is payable prior to commencing vaulting. Renewal falls due 1st Feb each year and notification will be forwarded to you from SVG. Newsletters are forwarded prior to the commencement of each term, or when necessary.

Training Sessions:

The horses are owned and training is run by Lyn Lynch of Cobb & Co Equestrian Pty Ltd at 88 Scheyville Rd Oakville. Training fees are notified in the term newsletter and are due at the commencement of each term, for eight lessons. Refunds are not given if a session cannot be attended, but will be given consideration if absence due to injury prevents the member from vaulting for a period of time. Sessions missed can be made up at another time during the week if space available. Most school terms are for nine or ten weeks, and we will continue to train up to the week before the holidays.

Memberships and Insurances.

SVG Inc. operates under EA rules and regulations. Membership of Equestrian Australia (EA) is required for EA competitions. Equestrian Australia membership provides 24 hour personal accident cover whilst involved in equestrian activities, as well as access to the National Coaching Accreditation Scheme (NCAS). EA provides funding for the development of the sport in general. To train and compete with SVG you are required to be a member of SVG Inc. or EA. SVG recommends that all vaulters have private health cover.

Equestrian Australia:

Membership to EA is through Equestrian NSW. To view the scale of fees visit: www.nsw.equestrian.org.au. Application for membership and payment will need to be forwarded directly to Equestrian NSW, and can be done online. Membership provides 24 hour Personal Accident cover whilst engaged in equestrian activities and is strongly recommended. Membership renewals fall due in July and will be forwarded to you directly from Equestrian NSW. Other benefits include the newsletters and access to NCAS programs. Copies of insurance policies are available on the Equestrian Australia website: www.equestrian.org.au
